

HIGHTOWER'S DEFENSE HIT BY ALAMEDA

E. O. Heinrich, Former Chief of Police, Identifies Writing of and Other Evidence As Pointing to Accused's Guilt

String and Sand Found in the Defendant's Room Declared Identical With Samples Taken From Priest's Grave

REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 8.—The prosecution today scored its biggest point against William Hightower, accused slayer of Father Heslin, Colma priest.

E. O. Heinrich, former chief of police of Alameda, and chemist and handwriting expert, testified to the following facts:

That sand found on the tent in Hightower's hotel room and sand on pegs, tent clothes and a hat found at the beach grave was identical.

That string found tied to planks at Salada beach and string found in Hightower's room is identical in every respect.

RANSOM LETTER LAID TO HIGHTOWER.

Heinrich said Hightower wrote the letter of August 3 demanding $5000 ransom for Father Heslin. He formed his conclusion by comparisons of the writing, on the ransom letter with that of Hightower.

This testimony was in confirmation of that given yesterday by Carl Elsenheimel, another expert on the subject of handwriting.

Carl Elsenheimel, a handwriting expert of San Francisco, positively identified the handwriting of August 3 sent to St. Mary's Cathedral at San Francisco, demanding $5000 ransom for Father Patrick E. Heslin, as that of Hightower.

Heinrich said the ransom letter was written on a piece of paper which was found in the defendant's room.

The ransom letter referred to was received through the mail at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco, August 3, the day following the priest's disappearance. It said Father Heslin was being held in a cabin and demanded $5000 for his ransom.

For a number of days, a newspaper of San Francisco, said that in Hightower's room August 11, Hightower told several persons that he had been experimenting with a run of infernal machine that would fire simultaneously ten loads of buckshot from ordinary shotgun shells.

These shells were to be placed in an iron piping so that the pulling of a string would release springs and discharge the shells.

OFFERS DEVICE TO IRISH REPUBLIC.

Adam said Hightower explained he intended to offer the contrivance to the British. Hightower told him he said, he had offered the gun to Father Murphy of Sacramento for use by the Irish Republic, but that he had refused it.

(Father Murphy had denied such conversation with Hightower.)

E. J. Emmmons, one of the attorneys for the defense, obtained permission to cross-examine Hightower today.

Mr. Putnam testified Thursday that she did not accompany Hightower to the beach, but that she had been riding to San Jose. This was the night Father Heslin was taken from his home in Colma by a stranger, who drove away with him to visit a dynamite.

Mr. Putnam testified Thursday she had driven with Hightower, who was then her companion, to a restaurant in San Francisco at 7 p. m. August 2. She said Hightower came into their hotel room some time after 1 o'clock that night. She could not fix the exact time. She has since married Putnam.

Storm Prevents 4th N. Y. Game; Yanks Lose Ruth

Home Run Slugger Crippled and Unlikely to Again Play in Series.

By JACK VEIOCK, International News Service Sports Editor.

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Oct. 8.—Today's game between the Giants and Yankees, the fourth of the series, was called off at 3 o'clock this afternoon on account of rain.

A storm that broke shortly after 2 o'clock drenched the playing field and drove blancherites to cover almost an hour before game time.

Fully 20,000 fans braved the uncertain weather on the chance that the teams would be able to play.

The lay-off today was a boon to both teams, as it gave the pitchers of the Yanks and Giants an extra day of rest. The Yanks are in need of the day of grace as far as pitchers are concerned, and more so since they have lost Babe Ruth, at least temporarily, to the Yankees.

RUTH OUT WITH ABSCESS ON ARM.

Ruth was lost to the Yanks through an abscess on his left arm. Life was crossed by an injury he received while sliding during a game at Cleveland about two weeks ago. The wound was up all last night, under the care of a doctor, and to day reported he was suffering considerable pain.

I have interviewed Ruth and have learned from him that there is very great doubt whether he will be able to appear in another game of the series. Babe was sitting in the Yankee club house and he said he was in considerable pain.

"AS IT LOOKS NOW, I SHALL NOT PLAY AGAIN."

"If my arm keeps on aching like this I am sure out of the game for the series," said the Babe. "I hope that the pain will let up, but there seems no sign of it. You can see for yourself how swollen my arm is. You can say for it it looks now I shall not play again."

With Ruth missing from the Yank line-up, Chick Fewster is expected to go to left field. Bobby Roth, a line hitting and capable fielder, is still suffering from a bad knee and is not fit for service except as a pinch hitter.

In case Fewster plays left field he probably will be the lead-off man in the Yank batting line. The batting order would take Ruth's place in the batting order.

Berkeley High Ties Stanford Freshmen

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 8.—The Stanford freshmen and the Berkeley High School first string squad battled to a 7 to 7 tie here today in the preliminary to the Stanford-St. Mary's game.

Outweighed by larger players on the line, Coach Duffy Senay's first-year proteges resorted to wide-open play and as a result in the third quarter scored a touchdown when Gilleland, freshman halfback, stepped around the line and raced up the field eighty yards to a touchdown.

Cuddesback converted and then the college city team began its stupor fight to overcome the lead. By the end of the game, Stanford had scored several forward passes.

Berkeley brought the ball to Stanford's five-yard line, but fumbled and Cuddesback recovered. Again Gilleland started the spectators with a sensational run of forty yards.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter, on a spectacular pass, Elson to Thatcher, Berkeley scored a touchdown. Stanford's defense was then in a desperate struggle to keep the ball out of the air and shifted across the Cardinal goal line with several Stanford babes hanging to his neck. Elson converted making the score even in the game ended with the score 7 to 7.

Cooper, Swan, Thatcher and Elson starred for the college city prep team while Gilleland, Cuddesback and Howard were the shining lights of the Stanford babes' attack.

Town Is Surrounded by Men Armed With Rifles to Prevent Escape of Bandit Who Shot, Killed Storekeeper

Citizens Interrupt Outlaw As He Robs Cash Register in Drink Parlor After Murder; Vallejo Sheriff on Way

DIXON, Oct. 8.—Dixon is surrounded by a posse of citizens and a search of every building in town is under way in an effort to capture the bandit who last night shot and killed instantly J. L. Ross, the proprietor of a local soft drink parlor.

The shooting occurred at 11 o'clock as Ross was looking up his place of business. The bandit entered through a rear door, fired one shot, which ended Ross' life, and coolly proceeded to rob the cash register.

He was engaged in rifling the cash box when a group of Dixon citizens, returning home from a lodge meeting and attracted by the shot, entered the place. Grabby, who he could of the money in the till the man escaped through the back door.

Hastily arming, a posse of citizens went round the town and the town responded to the alarm.

Sheriff J. J. McDonald, from Vallejo, is on his way here with another posse, adding the hunt is out to get the murderer, dead or alive.

Six Boys Hold Up Deputy Sheriff

MODESTO, Oct. 8.—Six youths, ranging in ages from 17 to 20 years, giving the names of Ralph Meyers, Billy Williams, John Fagan, Sam Jacobs, Charley Hines and William Brown, were taken into custody at the point of three guns.

Marching Hayes down the railroad track two miles they told him to stay there until morning, if he did not want to be killed.

After remaining quiet for an hour, Hayes returned to Riverbank and ordered the posse to disband. He also notified the police here.

At a late hour last evening the six boys were found eating in a cafe here and placed under arrest.

Guam Fortification, Naval Base Planned

By T. N. SANDIFER, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Completion of the fortified eastern coast of Guam and its establishment as a naval base, probably will be perfected by naval experts regardless of any expected decisions of the limit of armaments conference, it was indicated here today.

The navy, it is understood, has had for some time a projected plan for developing Guam into such a naval base, replacing the fleet and powerfully fortified. These plans have for various reasons not been carried out, so that in this time the navy has failed to avail itself of the opportunity to build a base in the Pacific. Some proposals are to be made to congress in this respect in the coming session.

"Dope" Suspect Seized In Fashionable Hotel

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Harry Davis, registered at a fashionable Powell-street hotel, was taken into custody today for violating the Harrison narcotics act after a raid on the hotel by police officers. Believing that Davis might attempt to dispose of "dope" alleged to be in his possession, McCarthy and White entered a light well and watched outside while Dunbar, rapped outside the door. The officers say Davis threw a quantity of "dope" out of the window into their arms, but had some still in his person when they finally entered the apartment. Davis brought out the arrest some time ago for the police of an eastern city of E. Pos, the officers say. He asked that he might play in the cell formerly occupied by him.

Barbara Castleton, Actress, Gets Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8.—Barbara Castleton, movie actress, said now to be filling an engagement in the east, was granted a divorce by Judge W. W. Zimmerman. Miss Castleton is known in private life as Barbara Zimmerman.

The plaintiff's testimony was taken last June, when she asked for a decree, alleging her husband had deserted her. The court held, however, that her corroboration of the alleged desertion was insufficient, but following a second hearing when additional testimony was presented, the decree was granted on the ground of cruelty.

Father Surrenders Prodigal Son Who Spent $45,000 Loot

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Carl Steller, C. Jr., prodigal son, came home after squandering $45,000 loot obtained from a mail robbery Sunday, Sept. 25, turned him over to the police. The son is in a cell today and faces an extended prison term.

Steller was one of the four men who stole $234,000 from the Standard Oil Company at Whiting, Ind., in September, 1919. The others already are serving prison sentences.

After the robbery, Steller and Bessie Jaskak, his sweetheart, fled. They went to Los Angeles, where Steller spent money lavishly, bought diamonds, airplanes, racing cars and generally "cut a wide swath." He studied aviation at the Sid Chaplin aviation school and later founded the International Aircraft Corporation of California. The concern shortly went into bankruptcy.

Leaving Los Angeles, Steller and his bride went to Texas, where he became a "stunt" aviator. He smashed his airplane, however, and eventually went broke. The couple drifted to Memphis, where Steller scrubbed floors to keep food on their table.

With a visit from the stark expected son, the Stellers came back to Chicago and appeared at the home of the prodigal's father. Steller, Sr., took down the telephone and called the police.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Captain Charles Murray, U. S. Marine Corps and aide to Major General George Barnett, commanding the Western Department of Marines, was arrested by the police at an early hour this morning and charged at the city prison with driving an automobile while intoxicated.

The officer was taken into custody following a collision of two automobiles, both of which were wrecked and one person was painfully injured.

As an aftermath of that accident Dr. Howard H. Dignan, prominent San Francisco physician, who resides in the city, was taken into custody charged with reckless driving.

In another automobile accident early today one man and two women were injured. The victims of the crashes were:

MRS. SARAH NORTON, 469 Fillmore street, cuts and bruises.

REV. SPENCER KILLED WIFE, JURY VERDICT

Former Pastor Convicted of Murder in First Degree; Recommendation That He Be Given Prison Life Term

Jurors Out Six Hours Before Reaching Verdict; Minister Hears Fate Calmly; Appeal Move by Attorneys Claimed

LAKEPORT, Oct. 8.—John A. Spencer, former clergyman, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a superior court jury here early this morning in connection with the death of his wife, whose body was recovered from Clear Lake, near here, July 27. The case went to the jury at 1:15 o'clock last night and the verdict was returned at 12:45 o'clock this morning.

Recommendation that Spencer be sentenced to life imprisonment was made. He will be sentenced next Monday morning, it was announced.

The defense's failure to call to the stand either Spencer or Mrs. E. D. Barber, alleged accessory to the murder, came as a surprise.

PALE AND RIGID UNDER LASH.

In his closing argument District Attorney C. W. Hoyle of Sonoma county leveled a finger at Spencer, sitting pale and rigid, and declared the former clergyman "deliberately drowned his wife so as to get her property and obtain freedom to wed another woman."

Earlier District Attorney Churchill of Lake county, who presided over the trial, demanded a verdict of first degree murder, under which the death penalty could be imposed.

Several witnesses for the prosecution had testified that Spencer had been drinking and had quarreled frequently with his wife. District Attorney Churchill, final witness for the prosecution, asserted Spencer twice had offered him consideration to be lenient in prosecuting the trial.

Mrs. Spencer's body was recovered from Clear Lake on July 27. Spencer had been driving a Buick car, which was found on a rowboat. He and Mrs. Barber were arrested a month later in San Jose.

Spencer has been connected with church work in Modoc, Napa and Sonoma counties.

LORDS WILL BE DONE, MURDER SPENCER.

"The Lord's will be done," murmured Spencer as he was led from the courtroom to a cell where he will await pending sentence, probably on Monday. The court has the choice between life imprisonment or hanging as the possible sentence. It is believed Spencer will appeal the verdict.

The verdict was something of a surprise to the community. Rev. Spencer went to trial on Monday.

WOMAN MET DEATH LAST NIGHT.

Mrs. Spencer was supposed to have been accidentally drowned while crossing Clear Lake with her husband on the night of July 27. The minister's word that the tragedy was accidental was accepted and the woman's body buried.

Later information was received by the officials of Sonoma and Lake counties which led to an order that the body of Mrs. Spencer be exhumed.

Suspicion on the part of the Spencer's neighbors is said to have caused the investigation. These neighbors, and particularly Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Barber, who were near the Spencer summer home in Knolls Bay, declared that they had been given to almost continuous quarreling. Others, it is said, asserted that they heard Mrs. Spencer screaming on the night of her death and prior to their embarkation in the rowboat.

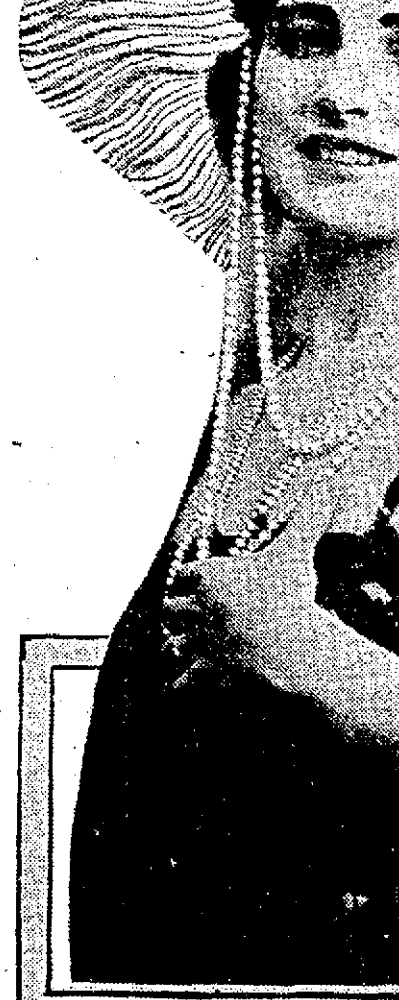

Spencer's arrest followed an avalanche of Mrs. Spencer's body, which caused authorities to believe she had been forcibly and not accidentally drowned.

Evidence at the trial developed the theory that Mrs. Spencer had taken his wife in a canoe to a lonely spot on the lake, drowned her and then carried her body in the boat to a landing, where he cut ashore.

Spencer is 60 years old and his wife's age was given as 40. They were married in Dayton, Ohio, in 1907.

Dethroned as Sheba's Queen

MISS TERYS DIETLE, campus dramatic star, who was considered for title role in "Queen of Sheba" until college officials frowned on the play and caused it to be barred.

'Queen of Sheba' Is Ruled Off by Officials of U. C.

"Unsuited for College Purposes," Ruling Which Halts Oriental Play.

BERKELEY, Oct. 8.—Too, too much.

So college officials have decreed "The Queen of Sheba," a story of love and royalty, as a result of the English club, the oldest dramatic organization, is hunting for another play in which to star college thespians.

From the office of President David P. Barrows, is declared to have come the edict which halted preparations for the play, which was to be the most spectacular production ever given by the English club.

"Unsuited for college purposes," was the decree sent to the English club officials by David P. Barrows, executive secretary of the university, acting for President Barrows.

DECREED "DANGEROUS" TO STUDENTS' MORALS.

Relating the romance of a beautiful queen with a king of an adjacent realm, of the deep love of the royal couple and of their brief happiness together, the play later follows the journey of the son of the couple from the kingdom of his mother to the East, where he is to marry a princess.

Such is the plot which college officials have decreed as "dangerous" to the morals of students, say members of the English club.

Preparations for the college play had gone so far that George Lusk, well-known professional stage director of the Bay Cities, had been engaged as director of the performance at the Greek Theater. To Miss Terys Dietle, star of last year's English club production of "Kismet," was to have been given the title role, according to tentative plans of the club's managers.

MISS DIETLE STAR OF KISMET PRODUCTION.

Chosen because of her dark beauty and her dramatic ability, Miss Dietle is declared by her friends to be a difficult role admirably, say those planning the forbidden play. In the part of Kismet-Kismet, queen of the harem, Miss Dietle distinguished herself in "Kismet."

Other stars of the English club who had expected to participate in the Oriental drama are Miss Marie Louise Myers, Miss Clarence Vanhoff, Miss Eva Bradway, Walter Plunkett, Fred Conn, Baldwin McGaw and a dozen more well-known college thespians.

A play that will meet the approval of the officials is now being sought by the club.

$300,000 Taken In Detroit Mail Truck Robbery

Race Track Receipts Included in Money Stolen; Several Suspects Seized.

DETROIT, Oct. 8.—Several suspects were held by police today in connection with the robbery here of a Canadian government truck of twenty-six mail pouches. Authorities today checked up on the loot, which they believed would total close to $300,000. Three of the pouches contained registered mail.

One of the pouches is believed to have contained the day's receipts of the Kenilworth race track in Windsor. Other pouches carried valuable securities, consigned from Canadian banks to Detroit financial institutions.

Authorities are convinced that the bandits had information from some one inside the mail service regarding the value of the mail sacks on the truck.

William R. Macaulay, driver of the truck, had left the ferry only a few minutes before the robbery and was driving toward the postoffice when an automobile drove up alongside of his truck and commanded him to turn into an alley. He drove up the alley, which had been blocked at the far end by an automobile.

The messenger was ordered from the wagon and stood facing a wall with the two guns of a guard pointing him in the back, while the other three robbers threw the mail pouches into their automobile.

With roads leading from Detroit into Toledo, Pontiac, Mt. Clemens and other communities guarded by the labor department, when Detroit's underworld reports is being conducted today in an effort to find the four desperadoes.

JAPAN WOULD WIDEN ARMS MEET SCOPE

Tokyo Cabinet Talks Agenda and May Propose Inclusion of Equal Opportunity in Entire Pacific; New Topics

Free Trade and Neutralization of Panama Canal Urged by Nippon Professor; U. S. Is Accused of Inciting Chinese

TOKYO, Oct. 8.—(By The Associated Press)—Japan probably will accept the American agenda for the Washington conference on limitation of armament and Far Eastern questions, but may suggest additions to it according to information in responsible quarters here.

These additions would avoid concrete questions, but would include general principles such as equal opportunity through the entire Pacific. The agenda was discussed by the cabinet today and will be submitted to the advisory council on Monday.

U. S. ACCUSED OF INCITING BAD FEELING.

Disarmament at American territories in the Pacific should be urged by Japan at the Washington conference, declared Dr. Saburo Yamada, dean of the Imperial University of Law, in an address before the National Policy Association here last night. He also urged free trade in the Pacific and the neutralization of the Panama Canal.

America was accused by Dr. Uchi Saburo Kobayashi of selfishly implanting her influence in China and inducing China "to rely upon the United States at the expense of Japan's interests."

He said a feature of "America's crafty courtesier of China" was the inciting of bad feeling among the Chinese against the Japanese through the Shantung question.

By CLARENCE DUBOSE, United Press Staff Correspondent.

TOKYO, Oct. 8.—Two questions have been added to the list which Japan expects to bring before the Washington conference, according to the Asahi, a Tokyo newspaper. They are:

A demand for equal commercial opportunities in Australia.

The Franco-Japanese dispute, involving customs payments in Indo-China.

The Asahi today said the government has decided to bring up these two questions at the conference.

It became known today that Japan negotiations with the China government, Secretary of State Hughes is in receipt of China's latest note to Japan, in which she refuses to entertain the Japan proposals as a basis for settlement. The hope was expressed in the highest administration quarters that the Beijing refusal does not close the door to further negotiations.

"Ever After" for Alice Brady Is Two Years; Divorce Sought

ALICE BRADY,
movie star,
who finds
"she craves change after two years of matrimonial life

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Before she was married, two years ago, Alice Brady, screen star, daughter of William A. Brady, millionaire theatrical and film producer, said:

"When I do marry it will be the right man and I shall live happily ever after."

Today she is suing to divorce James Crane, son of Dr. Frank Crane, writer and clergyman. She says now:

"What I want is change. I cannot stand the same people and surroundings for long. I live only for pleasure and excitement."

Neither will state just what particular rock wrecked their ship of happiness, but friends are of the opinion that professional feeling is not entirely unrelated to the affair. At the time of their meeting Crane was an obscure actor; since their marriage he has achieved considerable success on both stage and screen.

Boston intimates of the pair are prone to whisper the word "incompatibility," but it is purely a matter of surmise as the grounds have not been made public. The divorce is a matter of keen disappointment to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crane. Religious differences have also been hinted at as a possible cause.

This is the second disastrous ending of affairs matrimonial for the actress.

The cleverest talent to be found at the college took part. The plot of "Polly Put the Kettle On," laid in the Greenwich village studio of three young girls who are the stars of the situation where the action was well sustained. The plight of these three girls trying a "career" without attaining the success they claim before the world and their efforts to make a brave showing before Polly's rich aunt who suddenly arrives on the scene formed interesting entertainment.

One of the attractive features of the performance was the costumes designed for the many choruses by Walter Plunkett.

The production was under the management of George Lake, the music was under Paul Steindorff's supervision and the dancing under Anita Arila and Aileen Ayre.

The report of the resolutions committee, adopted just before the convention ended, included the following:

The government's present action to lessen unemployment was approved. In this regard, construction of highways and the carrying out of other public work was urged.

EXCESS PROFITS OPPOSED.
Congress was asked to enact equitable laws affecting the system of taxation and revenue. Repeal of the excess profits tax was demanded.

President Harding's forthcoming conference on armaments was given hearty approval.

Indorsement was given to a well devised sales tax as the most satisfactory method of raising additional revenue that may be required.

Economy in government was declared essential and the budget plan now in operation was lauded.

A plan for giving financial aid to war stricken nations under a scheme of international credit known as the inter-men plan, was sanctioned.

AID FOR FARMERS.
The bankers promised to aid the farmers with adequate financing.

Indorsement was given to the plan for a large canal, connecting the Great Lakes, the Ohio and the Mississippi and a canal connecting the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence.

While the bankers were placed on record as opposed to the soldiers' bonus bill, the fullest compensation for disabled soldiers was urged.

Many of the delegates expressed the belief that the whole country will soon see a better movement in wholesale and retail lines and that the Christmas shopping season will be one of great activity.

BRUTAL MURDER OF LITTLE GIRL DENIED BY BOY

MADISON, N. J., Oct. 8.—Frank Kluzen, 14 years old, arrested for the maniacal murder of little Janet Lawrence, 12, was taken to the county jail in Morristown today for safekeeping.

The boy denied he had stabbed the girl 25 times with a pocket knife and hidden her body behind a log in a clump of trees, known as Kluzen Wood.

Authorities did not reveal the information that led to his arrest. In the warrant in which they charged him with the murder, there was no statement of evidence that might connect the boy with the crime.

The Kluzens are one of the wealthiest families in Middlesex county. They live only a short distance from the scene of the murder.

Hot Water Always Ready

—Simply Turn the Faucet

NO home convenience is greater, nothing is more necessary than plenty of hot water at the exact moment you need it. No way of providing instant hot water is more dependable, more economical than with the Automatic Gas Water Heater.

This Heater is remarkably simple in design and unusually efficient in action. Turn your faucet any time and a powerful battery of Bunsen Burners causes hot water to flow instantly. Close your faucet and the gas is shut off. On, off, it does your bidding.

For demonstration see local gas appliance dealers.

MAN DIES WHEN AUTO PLUNGES DOWN RAVINE

Soquel Rancher Crushed As Machine Hurtles Over 50-Foot Embankment.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 8.—Isaac J. Ruble, 45, for several years a rancher of the Soquel district in the Santa Cruz mountains, met instant death last night when an automobile in which he was driving left a mountain road leading into the State highway near Eccles and plunged down a 50-foot embankment.

He was alone at the time and there were no witnesses to the tragedy. It is believed that Ruble lost control of his steering wheel in some unaccountable manner, the car plunging over the embankment. There were no indications that the steering gear had broken previous to the accident.

The automobile had plunged over and over down the steep grade, landing bottom up in the bottom of the ravine. Ruble's body was thrown clear of the wreckage, but he had been crushed to death in the fall of the car.

A fire starting in the wrecked machine attracted other motorists, who formed an investigating party.

CUPID LURKS IN AUTO WRECKAGE

SAN JOSE, Oct. 8.—Pretty 21-year-old Geraldine Ryder Purvis, daughter of Edgar Lee Ryder, millionaire New York attorney, who eloped Wednesday in San Francisco with Robert McR. Purvis, wealthy young Honolulu banker, is not working today over the probability that her marriage will meet with the disapproval of her parents.

Miss Geraldine Ryder, who resides—or did—at 78 Croton avenue, Ossining, N. Y., and Miss Edith C. Gordon, of 29 North Front street, who is herself worth a few millions of dollars, were chums at Wellesley College, near Boston.

It was in Honolulu that they met Robert McR. Purvis at several important social functions.

The romance, however, did not reach a climax.

On August 10 young Purvis set sail for San Francisco on the steamer Maui. On the same boat were Geraldine Ryder and Edith Gordon, her chum.

One night shortly following their arrival the party was journeying out O'Farrell street in the handsome Ryder car. Suddenly a second machine loomed up in front of them and a moment later there was a crash.

Cupid it paved the way for Dan Purvis to get in his deadly work and last Wednesday he fired the dart that turned the trick.

HUNDRED PER CT. CLUB TO RECEIVE CHARTER PERMIT

Members Will Take Part in Drive for Funds for Boy Scout Troops.

At next Friday's meeting of the Oakland Hundred Per Cent club, a charter will be granted the organization by the local body, the local club having procured its 50 representative business men. The Hundred Per Cent club at its weekly luncheon meeting at the Hotel Oakland yesterday appointed two teams to assist in the Boy Scout drive to be captured by Orin Chamblin and Ben Tooley. Appointment of the teams was made following an address by C. O. Dustin, campaign manager for the Scouts.

In his talk Dustin emphasized the value of the service rendered by business organizations such as the Hundred Per Cent club to the boy life in the community.

He said that, in working to this end, with the aid of the superior growing boys at heart, the business men along various lines will find an opportunity of becoming more closely acquainted with each other.

The speaker said activity in campaigns such as the Boy Scout drive offers an opportunity to the business life of the community to render important service to the boy life in the community.

Oldest Elk Is Introduced at State Meeting

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 8.—The seventh annual convention of the California Elks' Association opened its business session yesterday with Charles Donlan of Santa Barbara presiding. A feature was the introduction of the oldest Elk in America, J. R. Hebborn of Salinas, 84 years old. He addressed the platform and in a clear voice read an original ode, of which he is the author and which was dedicated to the order. He also gave remembrances of his acquaintance with Charles S. Trivian, the founder of the organization.

President Charles Donlan reported five new lodges instituted during his term of office in Huntington Park, Brawley, Ontario, Tulare and Monrovia, with preliminary steps taken for lodges in Ventura, Taft and Hollister. More than $120,000 was expended during the year by the lodges for charity. He recommended that each lodge take under its care an Elks' troop of Boy Scouts.

CHARLIE MURRAY VAUDEVILLE HIT

Sennett's Famous Screen Comique Coming to Pantages Sunday in Movieland Gossip

Charlie Murray, famous Mack Sennett comedian, has found his voice. For nine years he has been the most eloquent of Celtic comedians before the public, but he has been dumb—he has been a fine star, but the enterprise of Alexander Pantages the hilarious funster has been restored to the use of his vocal cords, which is to say that he has been engaged to tour the Pantages circuit, and will arrive in Oakland, Sunday, October 9.

The last time Charlie Murray was seen on the stage was as one of the principals in the New York production of "Alma, Where Do You Live?" in which he surprised and delighted the leading critics by the skill he revealed in a legitimate role, proving Murray to be one of the most versatile actors the American stage has produced, for it will be remembered by "ye old-timers" that years ago when a mere youth, he was senior partner in the firm of Murray, Mack, convulsing audiences all over the United States in a hilarious production called "Pinnegans Ball." Now, in the years of a matured experience, while still a young man, Mr. Murray is restored to the speaking stage for a tour of the Pantages circuit, and as sort of an outing for one who, in nearly nine years, has never failed in any picture production to bring joy and humor into the lives of all that have witnessed his art as America's most popular "comique."

Murray is billed as "The Famous Mack Sennett Comedian," and his offering is titled, "Movieland Gossip."

MAK SENNETT'S Comique of screen coming in person.

Charlie Murray, who has made millions laugh by his antics before the camera, is making a wide tour over Pantages circuit. It is nine years since Murray has appeared on the speaking stage, but his success has been as great there as it was in the film. He is to tell the story of movieland at the Pantages, for the week beginning next Sunday, October 9.—Advertisement.

SCHOOL BOARD TANGLED OVER TITLE TO SITE

Court Decision Throws Property Back to Original Owner.

RICHMOND, Oct. 8.—In an attempt to settle the dispute over the property right of the land recently purchased by the school board for the site of the new Washington high school, the school board yesterday afternoon between members of the school board and representatives of the Point Richmond Canal and Land company and the California Road and Street Improvement company of Fresno.

The property was purchased by the school board from the Street Improvement company, which had acquired the property title in payment of street improvement assessments unpaid by the Point Richmond Canal and Land company.

In a suit filed in the superior court, the Point Richmond Canal and Land company won back the title to the land provided the school board agreed to pay the school board the amount of the assessments. It was said today that in all probability a settlement would be reached in the very near future.

PLAYERS' CLUB IN ATTRACTIVE BILL

The Players' club opened its tenth year of devotion to the art by presenting a bill including "La Pompadour," Alfred Sutro's "Bracelet," and Maurice Maeterlinck's "Sister Beatrice."

While both the Kent play and the Sutro comedy were well handled—Mabel Gump, the "vamp of Versailles," radiant picture—it is Pearl King's interpretation of the nun led by love of the "walls of peace," that made the program one of the strongest ever given by the club.

And to the result Gertrude March, who designed the stage sets, was an invaluable contributor.

That Pearl King Tenner's concept of the part was manifested by the silence that followed the drop of the curtain at the end of the tense first act.

Mildred Martin Levy, who during her California university career took leads in English plays, was a convincing Mrs. Hagan, with Frederick McNulty, the love-lorn husband, Kathleen Olds Rucker, the alluring governess who supplied the affection, is one of the big promises of the club.

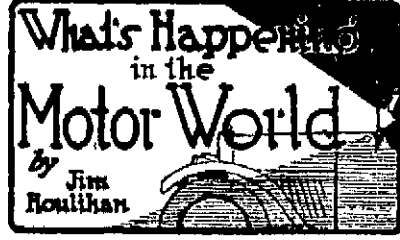

Mabel Gump's versatility in turning from "Big Kate" to "La Pompadour," as one of the surprises the Little Theater now and then springs on its clientele.

The group of plays will be put on each Friday and Saturday during October, Reginald Travers, as before, directing.—L. E. P.

Girl, 9, Disappears; Police Search Begun

SAN JOSE, Oct. 8.—Police and sheriff's officers this morning joined in a search for 9-year-old Gertrude Hagan of 159 Orchard street, this city, who disappeared mysteriously from her home yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock and who has not been seen or heard of since that time.

As yet, the child's parents and those joining in the search have no trace of the little girl had been obtained. Officers who were probing the disappearance were this morning turning their attention to a search for a middle-aged woman wearing a red hat—the meager description of the person with whom little Gertrude Hagan was seen talking.

A three-months study of motor accidents on Maryland roads has brought to light the interesting disclosure that a vast majority of the disasters that overtake motorists are brought upon themselves by their own recklessness, and that 80 per cent of them are due to speeding, says a writer in the September issue of Public Roads, published by the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture.

Of the interesting developments of the investigation, the journal goes on to say, "is that the largest number of accidents have occurred at the places that have always been considered safe, while the sections which have been commonly regarded as being extremely dangerous are proving to be relatively free from accidents." Where the state highway crosses the Blue Ridge Mountains, in the western part of the state, and grades are steep and curves sharp, there were but eight accidents during three months. On the National Pike, between Baltimore and Frederick, where there are forty-eight miles of the straightest road in the state, the record for the same time showed sixteen accidents, three of which were fatal. "And yet," says the publication, "few stretches of highway in the whole road system are so free of any features which might be considered as dangerous."

On the Baltimore-Washington road, with all apparent danger removed, the record shows that during the same period there was one accident for every four miles of road.

"There seems to be only one answer to account for these hitherto unsuspected conditions," the article says. That answer is:

"Even the less careful motorists drive cautiously in the presence of recognized dangers, such as steep grades, sharp curves, grade crossings, etc., while the absence of such dangerous features gives the driver a sense of security which prompts him to take a chance and yield to the well-known universal passion for speed."

Few accidents were due, it was found, to the condition of the roads themselves, and most of those were due to slippery surfaces caused by rains.

Radicals Are Defeated as Labor Convention Closes

SAN JOSE, Oct. 8.—Before the wind-up of the twenty-second annual convention of the State Federation of Labor yesterday the sympathizers of the rank and file movement made another attempt to get the privilege of the floor for W. J. Kelly, an advocate of the one big union. It was the third attempt and precipitated the convention into a three-hour debate between the so-called radicals and conservatives.

Long Beach was chosen for the 1922 convention.

Several direct attacks were made against L. M. McCarthy, president of the San Francisco Building Trades Council, who was present. He denounced the rank and file movement as an attempt to destroy the American Federation of Labor. The attacks against McCarthy did not come from delegates from building trades unions, but entirely from delegates representing the San Francisco culinary crafts.

IRISH SYMPATHY.

The resolution condemning the Pentose bill now before the United States Senate and demanding that the President and the Congress of the United States take such action as may be necessary to secure the prompt payment of the interest and the reasonably prompt payment of the principal of the obligations due this country from foreign governments was enthusiastically endorsed.

Resolutions expressing the "heartiest sympathy for the splendid struggle of the people of Ireland and the hope that their ideals may soon be fulfilled, and that they will be welcomed into the family of nations that are founded upon the God-given right of government by the consent of the governed" were also adopted amidst cheers of the delegates.

OTHER RESOLUTIONS.

Other resolutions adopted by the convention included:

Placing of hotel and restaurant inspectors under civil service; now appointive positions.

Favoring a $1200 minimum salary for teachers.

Thanks of the motion picture operators for efforts of State Senator A. B. Osborne in behalf of theatrical workers of the State.

Recommending legislation requiring overtime for fruit workers on national holidays.

Resolutions favoring enforcement of the six-day working week law.

Recommending more interest by labor in legislative representatives.

Increasing pensions of teachers retired after thirty years of service.

Favoring legislation against the use of national emblem by commercial interests.

CHECK ARTIST IS NABBED; POSED AS KIN TO PARDEE

Obtains Cash on Strength of Claim of Being "Nephew" to Ex-Governor.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 8.—Posing as a nephew of former Governor George C. Pardee of this state and attempting to cash a series of worthless checks on various local merchants, George Parker, 34, yesterday afternoon was nabbed by local police authorities and this morning is in the city jail here.

He has admitted that he was making a strenuous campaign throughout the city with his worthless checks and that his claim to being G. C. Pardee of Oakland, nephew of the former governor, was false.

As a result of the arrest Chief of Police J. N. Binek is thoroughly convinced that he has under arrest one of the most widely operating bad check men in the state. He has information, he says, to the effect that the young man is wanted in several other Pacific coast cities.

Parker, however, denies that he has long been engaged in the art of milking sums of money from unsuspecting merchants and others. He tells a hard luck story that would lead to the belief that only since out of work and faced by hunger has he turned to a career of crime. His story, however, is given little credence by the officers.

The young man's first trick was turned on the Foster Optical company, which accepted one of the "former governor's nephew's" checks for $75.00 in payment for a pair of binoculars. The glasses he received approximately half that sum in change, as well as receiving the binoculars.

His next move was to the Stratford Shop, where he purchased a $15 worth of clothing which he ordered sent to his apartment in The Alameda. He also was able to "get away" with his game there, obtaining a considerable quantity of cash.

It was while attempting a third trick on the Cunningham clothing company that Parker was arrested by the officers, who had been informed by the Foster Optical company that they had been duped.

Old Oakland and Oakland's Oldest Bank

Twelfth Street, looking East from Broadway-1867

WHEN Oakland was still looked upon as a "pretty place across the bay" where hunting or a day's picnic could be enjoyed; when the Chinese basket brigades brought the free market across from San Francisco; when a few merchant houses were scattered along lower Broadway and the water front boasted a lumber yard and a flouring mill; the Contra Costa Steam Navigation Company inaugurated a service of two boats between Oakland and San Francisco, charging one dollar for each passage. In these days the trip across the bay was considered quite a serious matter, but the oak groves and level, though as yet unpaved, streets of the little city offered a pleasant contrast to the high hills and barren aspect of San Francisco, and many suburban homes were built in Oakland.

❶ The first bank, The Oakland Bank of Savings, began business in a small brick building at Broadway and 9th Streets in August, 1867. So rapid was the growth of the city that in 1875 the bank, now located at Broadway and 12th Streets, had increased its deposits from $65,000 to $1,177,000, and from its inception the history of the bank has been an epitome of the growth and industrial development of the city.

A new note of alarm is discernible in Europe. French and Italian relations are strained. Italy blames France for all her disappointments at Versailles, forgetting what she actually gained as a result of the war, says Andre Tardieu, former high commissioner to America, in a cable to the SUNDAY TRIBUNE. He insists that the blame placed on France is undeserved and sees the need of early and frank discussions if trouble is to be avoided.

London has new hopes of a settlement of the Irish question, says George N. Barnes, member of parliament. This will be possible, he thinks, if Ireland will realize that a change has come over Great Britain in the last few years and that there is a new conception of the British dominions. They are regarded as partners in the British empire and are dealt with in terms of equality. There are signs that Ulster, also, may see the light.

Remnants of the Wrangel army, the last organized resistance to the Bolsheviks in Russia, are being sent back to that distracted land to meet a fate at which they shudder. Yet France insists she cannot maintain them in a workless condition in Corsica where they have been held. William, third cousin of Alajelo a vivid story of the pathetic situation.

The German mark sinks lower and lower in value as the printing presses turn out two billions a week. The German people, in panic, turn to gambling and speculation in an attempt to change their paper of no known value for something that is tangible. Many are buying American dollars, says Maximilian Harden, Berlin publicist, no matter what the cost, and are putting them in the cupboard against a rainy day. He sees economic chaos if the rulers of the world's destiny don't stop, look and listen.

The unemployment situation is less of a menace than it was a few weeks ago, says Harden. The jobless army is decreasing in numbers and outside of the three largest cities in the United States, Washington labor department officials believe that there will be no necessity for public soup houses this winter.

Ralph Burton gives information that the farm-raiding banks demanding financial aid under the new loan act. Agriculture is facing a crisis and the government is speeding up its plans to relieve the distress.

A great work of evolution is going on within the ranks of the Republican party, says Robert T. Smith, writing from Washington, and control is now in the hands of the western element. He declares that the west has developed a strength and influence that enables it to dictate just what the party shall or shall not do. This has been the means of detroning Senator Penrose, who for so many years has been the big figure in party politics.

HAD NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Mrs. Ireland Permits us to Publish this Letter for the Benefit of Others Who Are in Her Condition

Warsaw, Missouri. — "For five years I was weakly, nervous and in a run-down condition. Then I had a nervous breakdown and doctors said I would never be well again. After I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was healthy, strong and felt better than I ever did in my life before. I can't praise the Compound enough and will recommend it to all women. You may publish this letter if you think it will help others." Mrs. FLORENCE IRELAND, R. E. 1, Warsaw, Mo.

Nervous women are both ailing and wretched, and with a nervous breakdown all joy goes out of a woman's life. It is said that the ills peculiar to women act on the nerves like a firebrand.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is successful in overcoming such conditions, and a large number of American women who were once great sufferers from nerve troubles owe their present health and comfort to it and it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.

RICHMOND, Oct. 8.—Due to increased demand, the Giant Powder works north of here are working full blast again. Revival of mining is said to be the cause for the sudden demand for explosives. Many old mines which had been abandoned are again in operation, due largely to the depression of other business. The big company hotel at the plant has been opened by the employees and is being run on the cooperative plan and is said to be a huge success. Better service and a reduction of prices is said to have been the result of the new plan.

Y. M. C. A. Officer Talks to Rotary

RICHMOND, Oct. 8.—General activity of the Y. M. C. A. was the basis of a very interesting and enlightening talk which was given by F. A. Jackson, associate secretary of the Y. M. C. A., at the luncheon of the Rotary club today.

F. W. Duckles spoke upon the "Community's Responsibility to its Boys," stating, among other things, that to educate a boy without moral training was to make a dangerous citizen, and that the most valuable asset in any community is its boys. Plans are already being discussed for the international convention of Rotary to open in Los Angeles in June of next year. It is planned to secure a hotel for the accommodation of the Richmond Rotarians and their ladies.

DEADLOCK IN OIL STRIKE PROMPTS LEADERS TO ACT

Union Heads Realize Inactivity Threatens to Bring Discontent in Ranks.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 8. (By the Associated Press).—The return from San Jose of Walter J. Yarrow, R. H. Frazer and other leaders of the striking oil workers in the San Joaquin fields, was expected today to result in some new moves aimed toward victory for the men. The strike, called four weeks ago tomorrow, has taken on the aspect of an endurance test. The men have successfully blocked ingress to the fields for new employees, while the producers affected by the strike have made no visible effort to resume production.

The strike leaders, however, do not hesitate to say that they realize the present inactivity of the strikers would lead, in time, to discontent and disintegration of the ranks, and they hope to bring about a change of conditions soon.

Reports from the various fields affected, starting at Coalinga in the north, and following the foothills down through McKittrick, Taft and Maricopa and the smaller intervening fields, indicated today that all was quiet. An occasional nervous superintendent would charge the strikers with fomenting trouble, and an occasional excited striker would shout for violence, before his more level-headed comrades could quiet him down, but save for these manifestations, life in the strike district was normal.

PROFESSOR TELLS INDIA'S PROGRESS

Although India is passing through a critical period, she has made considerable political progress on account of the war and her participation in it, according to Professor B. C. Horne, head of the department of economics at the University of Pennsylvania, India, in an address yesterday before the Commonwealth club in San Francisco. Professor Horne is an exchange professor at Harvard, and has been delivering a series of lectures at the University of California and Stanford.

"India had no representation in the colonial conference of the British empire, an institution of 30 years' standing, until 1917," the speaker said. "When the imperial council met that year her representatives were received on the same footing as those of the other dominions."

"She is an independent member of the League of Nations and, though some may hold to the belief that her votes cast at Geneva are under the direction of the British empire, I believe that her votes are exercised freely. The world already has accepted the statement in regard to Canada that she will not take dictation from the imperial government, and as to the manner in which she speaks and votes at Geneva, and this is also true of India. India has taken her full place in the deliberations of the league."

"Already India has a high commissioner in London, and it will not be long before she has her consular service for the protection of the rights of her nationals throughout the British empire."

Today Is Dedicated to America's Sweet Tooth

Today is Candy Day—"The Sweetest Day in the Year." Candy manufacturers and dealers throughout the United States have dedicated the day to impressing upon the public mind the fact that while their product serves many purposes it primarily is worthy of recognition because of its unusual high food value.

"Not so many years ago," declares Henry Rhine, chairman of the Western Confectioners' Association, "the manufacture of candy was a minor industry carried on in back rooms. Today it is one of the most rapidly growing industries in the country and candy, from a so-called luxury, has come to be recognized as a necessary article of diet."

"Syrups, fruits, fats, starches, nuts and chocolate are all foods and all candy ingredients. In modern candy making the most delectable and nutritious confections are produced from a balanced ration of proteins, fats and carbohydrates and are capable of sustaining life almost indefinitely with only the addition of water."

In the consumption and production of candy Northern California apparently is leading the rest of the country, Rhine believes.

Rhine explains that while it is true

U. S. SCRIP FRAUD CHARGED TO TWO BY NAVY OFFICER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—J. H. Strong, alias J. K. Smith, who claims to be a member of the diplomatic corps as a secret service agent, is in jail here, where he is being held for investigation, following his arrest yesterday on a criminal charge of "ticket scalping."

Strong, in company with Jack Ray, were taken into custody upon the complaint of Chief Petty Officer James G. L. Navy, who alleges that Strong tried to get him a railroad ticket to New York, the ticket having been secured on government scrip.

Search of Strong's room disclosed hundreds of government blanks, which are requests for transportation. Ray told the police that he met Strong at the Y. M. C. A., where Strong introduced himself as a government secret service agent. He told Ray that he might make some money by selling government scrip, according to Ray's story to the police, Strong promised to sell the scrip to discharged soldiers and sailors.

Strong claims to have signed for the blanks at Washington just before he left for the west, where he says he is in charge of secret service men watching the Mexican border for the apprehension of a gang that is believed to be making ready to attempt the smuggling across the border of $2,000,000 worth of opium.

CLINK OF GOLD WILL GLADDEN CALIFORNIANS

Controller of Currency Says Yellow Coins Will Be Circulated Again.

Californians who have almost forgotten what it sounds like to drop a $20 gold piece on the sidewalk, or to have one tossed across a counter or cashier's desk, may soon be given the opportunity to renew the golden music of yellow coins. Gold coins are coming back, according to D. L. Crissinger, controller of the currency.

Crissinger, a life-long friend of President Harding, came to the city yesterday from Los Angeles, where he attended the convention of the American Bankers' Association.

"There has been some talk of putting a limited amount of gold coins into circulation to see if the people want them," said Crissinger. "We are convinced that the people of the state want yellow coins. They always have and probably always will. But out west I find it different. Since coming here I have had more silver dollars in my pocket than I ever carried in any other part of the country. I find that the people of California want gold, and we shall give it to them. I suppose it is because of the tradition of the old days—California being the golden state, and all that."

Crissinger said there had been much talk about the coinage of a 3 cent and a 2 cent piece, but stated further that he did not believe the coins would be authorized.

Church to Hear Types of Best Girls Discussed

"Young men just want your conception of an ideal young woman? Somewhere you find a girl, surrounded away by which you judge the girls that you meet in the course of your daily life. Do you prefer the blonde with soft brown eyes, with curling hair and rosy cheeks, or the girl with dark eyes, with her demure way and pink and white complexion? Does beauty plus brains make a girl? Or are you satisfied with beauty alone?"

Members of the Melrose Baptist church will decide this question tomorrow night (at least an attempt will be made to decide it) at 8 o'clock, when Rev. H. H. Zimmerman will give an address on "A Young Man's Concept of an Ideal Young Woman."

BLOW AT HARBOR IMPROVEMENT.

Mayor Darie in a public statement of yesterday, published in full in THE TRIBUNE, called attention to the clauses in the proposed new charter of "consolidated" city and county government which relate to the harbor facilities of Oakland. There are unique and strange provisions in this charter, so specific in their effect that one is amazed to find them included in a document decided to be a basic instrument of government.

The Mayor of Oakland calls attention to the clause which prohibits the city permitting the improvement of that portion of the waterfront lying between the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific piers. That is about the most valuable section of Oakland's waterfront and is known as the "white meat." The one interest most concerned in obstructing the development of this section is the Southern Pacific railroad. The charter clause appears to fit with the exactness of a silk glove the Southern Pacific's program. It is to be found in the fourth paragraph of section 146 of the proposed charter and reads:

"No lease, license or privilege shall be granted of that portion of such waterfront, harbor or property contiguous thereto, lying between the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific piers."

It is not known what motives or influences led to the inclusion in the proposed charter of this prohibition against the improvement of the waterfront on the south side of the Southern Pacific's pier. But the certain effect is perfectly plain. And it requires no lawyer's talent nor additional information to justify the decision that no charter of government for any city should include in it such disabling prohibitions against public improvements for the public benefit as this clause calculated to serve the obstructive program of a great railroad corporation.

SOVEREIGNTY OF THE UNION.

In his replies to foreign communications touching on the League of Nations, Secretary of State Hughes frequently has concluded his despatch with a paragraph stating that "Note is taken of this information for any purpose of relevancy to the United States, as a State which is not a member of the League of Nations. The New York Sun believes this to be a matter of great interest."

Students of political science, says the Sun, have hitherto been fairly unanimous in the opinion that the United States could not be designated as a "State." These students affirm that the cardinal attributes of a "State" is sovereignty, and this a federation, by its very nature, cannot exercise. "A State cannot be created by formal agreement between individuals, nor brought into existence by a compact between sovereign States." A divided and double sovereignty, it is said, is an impossibility.

The Sun does not give the names of the students upon whom it places the responsibility for these views. But they are curious views, to say the least. Apparently they are students who have devoted their efforts exclusively to delving into the musty tomes of theories enunciated before the birth of the American Republic, for their ideas show scant recognition of post-colonial facts.

It would be an audacious student indeed who held that the United States did not possess the attributes or exercise the powers of sovereignty. It is a political community possessed of supreme authority in ordering civil affairs and the administration of its government.

Some students are confused by the reservation of certain governmental powers to the several States, but it should be remembered that these powers are reserved upon condition and are limited. The condition is that the State exercise them: in case of default, as happened in West Virginia a few weeks ago, the federal authority steps in and exercises them. The limitation is that the exercise of the reserved powers by the State conform to the higher law and authority of the federal government.

As to the dicta that a State cannot be created by formal agreement between (or among) individuals, nor brought into a compact among sovereign States, history records contrary facts. The United States was formed by a compact entered into by the several colonies that established their independence by the Revolution. The result was a sovereign nation, a sovereign State, no matter to what extent the hair-splitting philologists may try to confuse the fact. So long as the only doubt as to the possession of attributes of sovereignty by the American Republic is in the minds of students of political science, American sovereignty is not seriously endangered.

Employment by Mr. Hughes of the word State to designate the whole Union in referring to its relation to other world States does not indicate any unusual or new development in America's conception of its own character. There is no occasion for the advocate of State rights and the defender of the "sovereignty" of the several States to take fresh alarm. The national government is and always has been sovereign to just the extent it elects to exercise sovereignty according to laws of its own making.

THE GOLF COURSE ASSURED.

Final sanction has been given by the Oakland City Council to the purchase of the 24-acre ranch overlooking Lake Chabot for the creation of a municipal golf field. The authority to make the initial payment of $7500 has been granted and the single obstruction of real estate agents has been overcome.

Once again THE TRIBUNE wishes to commend the City Council for its action in making it possible for Oakland to have a public golf course at an exceedingly reasonable cost and under a financial arrangement which will not place any significant extra burden upon the taxpayers. The opportunity was such that it would have been next to maladministration to have permitted it to pass unheeded.

Oakland now possesses a new public park where the people may find health-giving recreation. In a few years Oakland will be able to boast one of the most adequate golf fields in the United States and will take her place among the leaders of cities that provide for the public benefit.

The efforts to attach political significance to the visit of Thomas W. Lamont of the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., to Mexico City seems without logical basis. Mr. Lamont is chairman of the committee of international bankers representative of and acting for the holders of some $350,000,000 of Mexican securities. The Mexican government has made no payments of interest or principal on these securities for over six years. One of the problems of Mexico's relations with foreign nations is to effect an agreement by which the liquidation of her debts to foreign bondholders may be resumed. Associated with Mr. Lamont on the committee are French, British and Belgian bankers. If an agreement with Mexico can be reached at an early date it will go very far toward rehabilitating Mexico in the good opinion of the world.

A resolution was offered in the League of Nations Assembly at Geneva to amend article eighteen of the covenant, which provides that all treaties and international agreements be filed with the League for general publication. It was desired to change the article so that certain agreements might be kept secret. The Assembly, after much oratory, voted it down. But unquestionably the effort will be revived at the next meeting of the assembly. The inhibition against secret diplomacy is severe on several European governments and they will not tolerate publicity of all their schemes if they can avoid it.

Flashless powder has followed smokeless powder and the silencer. This adds to the degree of secrecy possible in conducting a battle. Now if the military scientists will devise non-sinkable balloons, non-fallable airplanes and non-explosive balloons, and medical science will make wounds deathless and painless, war may not be so uncomfortable after all.

STABILIZING PRICES.

Failure of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago to lower the 6 percent rediscount rate here, in connection with the 5 percent rate put into effect in the New York district, has caused some comment in financial circles in New York and some adverse criticism, even in lay circles, in Chicago. To any man in the middle-west except the one who wants to borrow money, it should be an encouraging sign. The action is due in part to an increased demand for money here. The common reaction to that statement probably will be that the banks are out to get there; that the more urgent the demand the loans from them the higher their prices will be. That is hardly fair. The ordinary consumer, who is inclined to look upon a bank as a thing apart from his daily life, an influence restricting his rights and opportunities, ought to be led behind the scenes in this matter.

The nature of inquiries for loans from local banks has given the bankers reason to believe that the borrowers are seeking funds to enable them to carry over inventories and stocks of merchandise. A tendency toward rising prices of some commodities has led these men to believe they can get higher prices if they can hold their goods. The bankers are unwilling to support such a plan. If they make credits available at small charge they will check liquidation. If they put a premium on credits they will force liquidation. That will mean sales at present prices, with consequent advantage to the consumer and the eventual stabilization of business on a new plane.

This view of the situation will be new to many persons. It reveals the bankers' view of the future as well as the present. It tends to refute the popular belief that all big business is cooperating to crush the common people. It calls for a steady turnover of merchandise in order to meet current obligations. The public can do its part toward that liquidation by buying what it needs when it can.—CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

NOTES and COMMENT

Why a woman would want to marry a convicted murderer is not blantly apparent, but the fact that one up in Marysville does has brought forth a legal opinion that the murderer, having lost his civil rights, cannot enter into wedlock. It is doubtful if this point was ever elucidated before—possibly for the reason that it never arose. Seeing that the man is to be incarcerated for life, that it should arise now is a considerable surprise.

Those engaged in every industry find it advantageous to get together and talk trade. When artichoke growers find it worth while to organize, there is no reason why raisers of spuds should not assemble formally and ascertain if one knows something that it may be profitable for others to know. All of which is ancient the convocation of potato growers of California, called for next month, with Berkeley as the meeting point.

There is likely to be some wonder if the President in tendering Senator Kenyon an appointment as a Federal Judge hadn't an idea that his absence from the Senate would make things run smoother. The fact that the Senator declined the appointment lends color to this idea. When such appointments are made it is generally ascertained beforehand whether the appointee will accept.

It is given as news that the San Francisco loaf is to descend another trifling notch—one cent. Considering the strident way in which the price shot up in times of national stress, the hesitating way in which it comes down is noticeable. It has some ways to come yet before it can look the price of flour in the face.

The Sacramento Bee is fiercely wet, and it neglects an opportunity. "Prohibition officers raided three saloons on the corner of Third and J streets last night. Before prohibition there were only two saloons on that corner."

Polished jab from the Kansas City Star: "The Chicago Cubs and the Sox are going to play a series to determine which is the champion seventh place team in the major leagues. The Houston Post indorses the series as a sure cure for insomnia. Philadelphia, with two teams in the last place, could also play such a series—only Philadelphia has never suffered from insomnia."

Mrs. Harold McCormick, after eight years abroad, has come home and awakened the country by separating from her husband and buying twenty-five sea lions. Whatever happens she seems determined not to have a humdrum responsibility.

Next Monday is fire prevention day. It is easy to celebrate anniversary days on which events occurred and things happened, and other days set apart for doing special things; but it would seem to be necessary to have a program for the observance of a day to prevent things. However, he who prevents a fire does something praiseworthy—and it is too bad if he is not aware of it.

Patty Arbuckle's lawyer believes the manslaughter charge will never be brought to trial, and that the whole case will be brought to an early close. Well, the sooner it ends the sooner Mr. Arbuckle can get started on his new career as truck driver.—Kansas City Star

What's the use of this monkey gland business, anyhow? Many men who have lived to be ninety years old have been forgotten in thirty days afterward.—Richmond Record-Herald.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS.

With "Brother Peter" and Brother Isak" creating excitement about with their claims of being able to perform miraculous cures of the sick and afflicted we are in no position to be critical of stories that come from abroad, however incredulous we may be.—San Bernardino Sun.

The more they bother with Arbuckle for violation of the Volstead act the more sympathy he will win for himself. If there had been nothing but a charge in his case he would have been acquitted, as far as the public is concerned, with a hurrah ere this.—Redding Searchlight.

Mrs. Ellen E. O'Brien of this city has been awarded a contract for the grading of a road in Child's Valley, Napa county. She states that the contract price for the work was about $15,000, and expects to have a few more contracts in a few days. Mrs. O'Brien is the builder of the Franklin canyon highway.—Martinez Gazette.

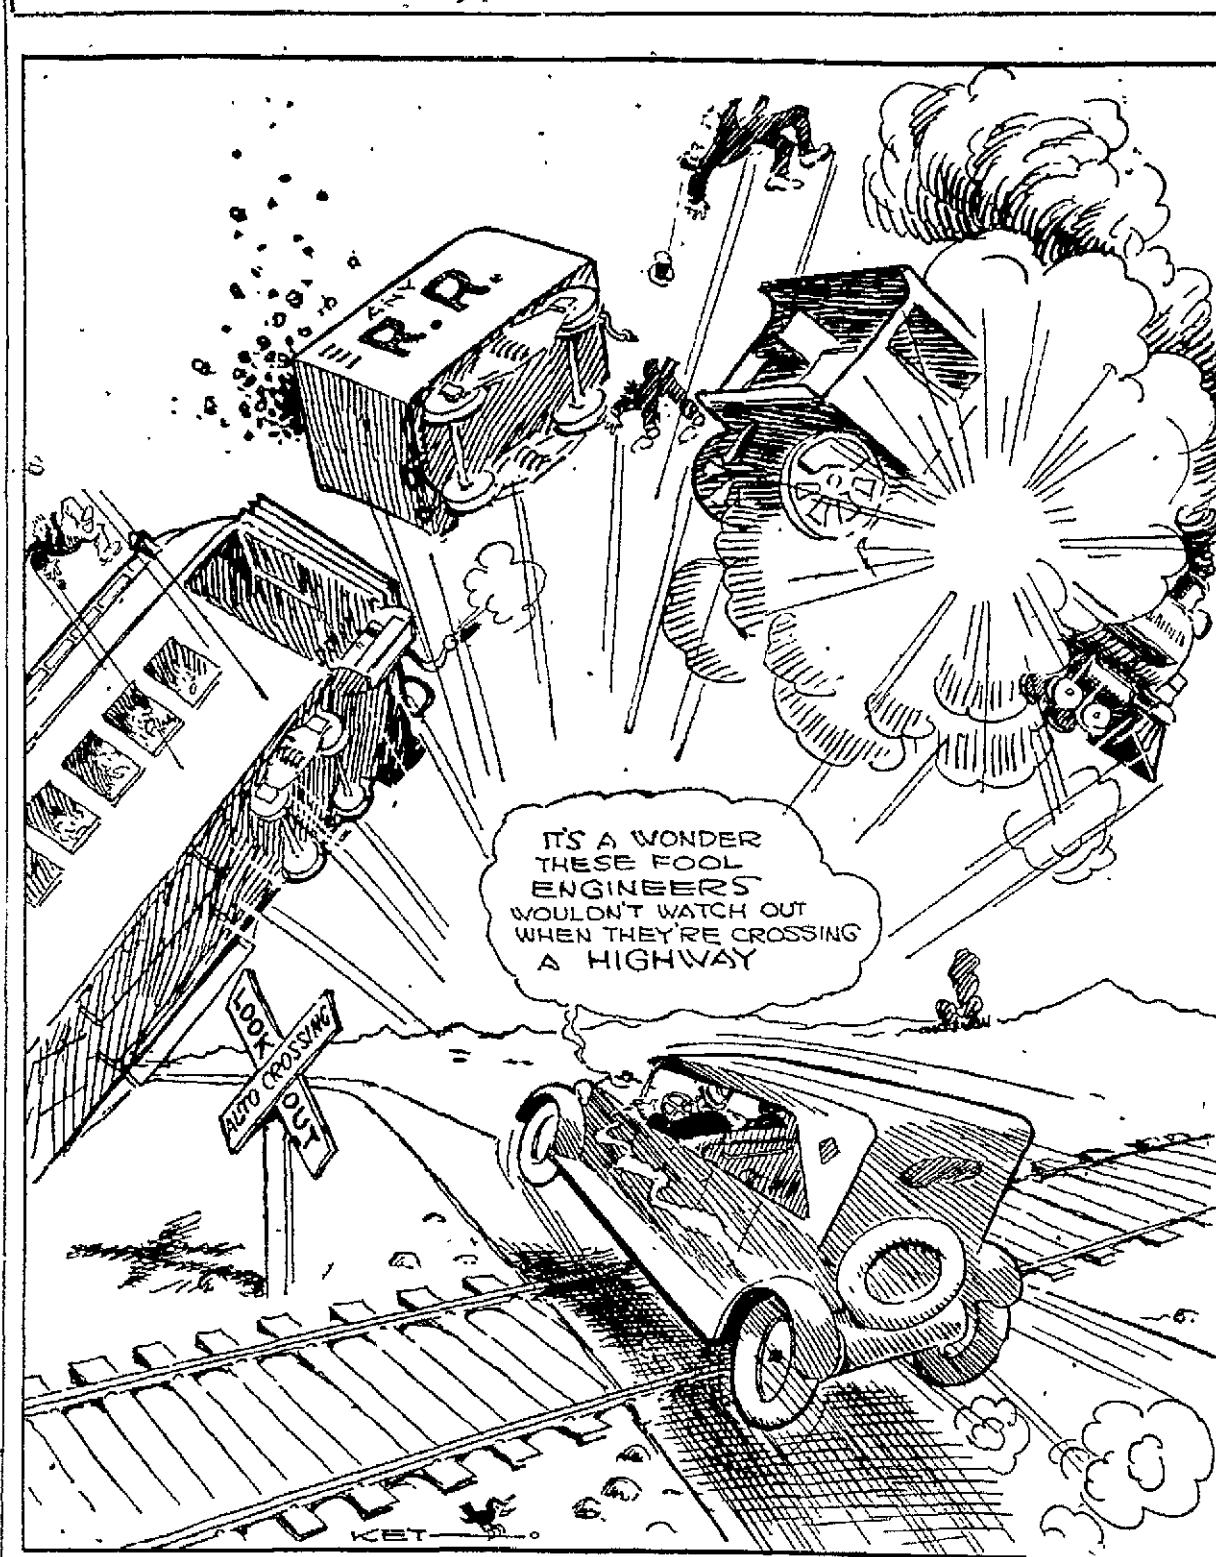

The newspaper men who live by press agentry are looking forward to a big clean-up next year on account of the election. The first one of the season made his appearance in Merced yesterday, boosting Clarke for governor and getting an early start.—Merced Star.

Stockton has been given 43,400 population by the new city and county directory. But a city's population is like a woman's age—always an uncertain quantity—except that the larger the figure the better it suits a city.—Stockton Record.

The expenditures of the State government for September, 1921, were almost $12,000,000—about four times those of the same month five years ago. And Governor Stephens is running for re-election on a platform of economy.—Chicago Enterprise.

On Saturday of last week C. A. West, former owner of the Republican Press, whose property he had sold, was seen by a lady in the Pittsburg Dispatch and the first issue under Mr. West's ownership appeared yesterday (October 4).—Ukiah Republican Press.

JUST FOLKS: By EDGAR A. GUEST

REWARD
Let laughter pay me for my toil
And I'll not ask for gold,
I'll gladly fill my patch of soil!
And rest when I am old.
If they who know me best shall smile,
I'll count my drudgery worth while.
I'll hold the plow or breast the gale,
Or humble post I'll keep,
Nor will I say I've lived to fail,
Though little I may reap.
If those who love me are content,
I'll count my time and strength well spent.
Let them be glad to kiss my cheek
And proud to walk with me,

Different Kind of Criticism.

"Yes," replied the friend.
"I wish you would saunter by carelessly and find out what they are saying. It looks like business."

CARELESS DRIVERS.

To the Editor of The Tribune:
Re blinding headlights and no tail lights.
It is opportune now for the traffic police to prevent the use of blinding headlights on cars coming from San Jose on a Sunday night; also to compel the use of visible tail lights, and effect the punishment of offenders who will persist in driving cars the steering apparatus of which needs thorough adjustment. Fewer accidents would occur if these careless drivers were fined and their licenses withdrawn.

DUMPS NOT WANTED.

To the Editor of The Tribune:
In reference to this evening's article in regards to the garbage question of the city of Alameda, I do not think that the people or the city council fully understand what the signs of the pestilence against the dumps in the vicinity of Mount Diablo are protesting against. It is true as you stated that the small flies, rats and the deprecation of our property was the discussion at the city council chambers, but the main issue of the people of the east end of Alameda is that they do not want any dumping ground whatsoever.

Alameda city is about one-eighth the population of the city of Oakland and has only that proportion of garbage to dispose of, but it has a much smaller area and so is more congested, and I cannot see why the city manager and the city council should lose any time in building an incinerator to consume garbage. Alameda is altogether too small to have any dumping grounds and although we have argued and pleaded with the city manager and the city council, they have insisted in using the dumping grounds and we in the vicinity of Mount street are made to suffer.

The city council tells us they have the money to build an incinerator, which should have been built twenty years ago, considering the area and the ever-increasing population of Alameda, but the only excuse for delay is that they must investigate other cities' incinerators and see how they are built, and in the meantime we have to put up with the nuisance and the menace to our health which may continue from six months to a year or even be long as Alameda is old.

My main object is to urge the city to build an incinerator at the earliest possible moment and on their property.

The city manager and city council are to pay the dumps an official visit on Sunday morning about 10 o'clock and all preparations are being made for the occasion by placing of plenty of fresh sand and soil to have it in apple-pie order for the first time, and make it appear to the city officials that there is not any menace and no cause for us to complain. Any other citizen that wishes to make the excursion and bring their lunch and eat it on the grounds would be safe to do so, but that day only, for after that I am not prepared to state, but I voice the sentiments of the community when I state we are still in the fight for our rights.

About YOUR HEALTH

How to Buy Ten Years For Only Two Hours a Day.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Yesterday I asked an old colleague how he worked so hard and yet maintained such vigorous health. "Come around to the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association tonight and I'll show you," he said.

So at about 8 o'clock I strolled up Peel street and peered through the bars of the iron fence into the lawn bowling green. My friend spied me and, opening the gate, gave me a seat on the side lines.

Here is a beautiful piece of closely-clipped grass, something more than a hundred feet square. It is divided into four "greens," each the full length of the place. The bowls of balls are oval in shape, about five inches in diameter, and weigh several pounds apiece. They are rolled across the green, in an endeavor to get closest place to the "kitty," at the little white sphere is called which is first tossed out towards the extreme end of the green.

You can see that it takes as much skill to play this game successfully as it would to make accurate shots with an elliptical billiard ball.

Here we are playing three groups of men—a total of twenty-four. All were intent upon the game, running up and down the green, chafing each other, eager to win in a contest where accurate muscular action, good eyesight, strategy and sound judgment are essential to success.

Some of the men were young, but most of them—like my friend—were middle-aged. A few were inclined to undue plumpness. All of them were inside workers, business and professional men.

On the side lines and peering through the fence, as I did at first, were at least a hundred other persons. Suspended over the green were enough electric lights to illuminate the field. When I left at 10 o'clock I felt I was "breaking up the party," because no one else had started to go.

What is the significance of all this?

One hundred and twenty-five persons, instead of being indoors in poorly-ventilated and dusty rooms were in the open air. The players were exercising in a temperate but yet sufficiently energetic way to stimulate the heart and to drive the blood through the body, bathing and cleansing every cell and fibre.

Every spectator was taking sides with one or another group or individual. Pleasurable excitement to the outcome was causing every heart, no matter how sluggish ordinarily, to perform more actively.

Anything that takes you out of doors and gives you an interest in some outside thing is contributing to your good health and to the prolongation of your life.
The English, Scotch and Canadian have gloried always in bowling, cricket, curling, Rugby and a dozen other outdoor sports. They have profited physically as a natural result. They hold it over many other nations because of this form of sport and exercise.

It needs no encouragement as regards outdoor activity, but in this particular, middle-aged men, the length of life you are to have. If you will cultivate the habit of spending some time out of doors each day you will find yourself following this custom all the days of your active life. The period of active life will be materially increased by the practice of walking, golf, bowling, hunting, fishing, croquet, gardening, mowing the lawn, mending the hedge, picking apples, ploughing, herding sheep, riding a horse, rowing, swimming—all these things, make for good health and long life.

Spent two hours a day in the sunshine and fresh air and you will add ten years to your expectancy of life.

MILIE LENGLEN DEPRESSED.

Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen of France, who arrived in this country a few weeks ago, aroused great enthusiasm in American tennis circles, but in tennis in the only match she played here failed to prove as unbeatable as followers of the sport had been led to believe, called for Havre on board the France of the French line. Unable to regain her health after her dramatic collapse, her match with Mrs. Molla, Blarstedt, of Norway, the French girl had been compelled to abandon the exhibition tour that had been planned for her.

Unlike her arrival, her departure in company with her mother was almost unnoticed. When a number of photographers arrived at the dock Mlle. Lenglen, in her elegant motor car, and it was with reluctance that she consented to go ashore that she might be photographed in the act of ascending the gangplank.

The French girl seemed depressed and requested her interviewer not to question her about tennis. "I am getting back for a vacation rest. My doctor tells me I'll be myself again. Please say that I am grateful for the kindness and attention with which I was received." "Will you come to America again?" she was asked, but she shrugged her shoulders and answered "Who knows?"—New York Sun.

You publish an article in a part of the paper which is seen by the general public, asking parents to instruct their children to refrain from using the sidewalks as garbage heaps. On one street alone, in the past week, there have been three serious falls from stepping upon bits of orange peel, in the dark.

Of course if a child prefers to eat from a white walking on the street, it is at liberty to do so. But it would be a very simple matter to throw the garbage in the gutter rather than on the walk, and better still, the Street Department has placed square boxes at convenient distances for this purpose.

The breaking of this sidewalk garbage habit may prevent some serious accident in the near future.

LICENSE NUMBER ORPHAN TICKETS

Manager of Theater to Pick One At Random; Tribune Will Print Choice.

Do you know the license number of your automobile? Better look it over—it's worth more now than it was when you paid your last annual license fee.

How come? Because the same number may be the open sesame for two seats at the Oakland Orpheum.

Here's the idea. Manager Lew Newcomb is going to pick out a license number from some automobile in Oakland, Berkeley or Alameda.

That same number will be published in the Oakland Orpheum advertisement appearing in The TRIBUNE on the following day.

Then—the owner of the car whose number appears in the advertisement has only to call on the Circulation Manager of The TRIBUNE at Third and Franklin streets, and he will be given an order for two seats at the Oakland Orpheum for any matinee or night performance, good, any day except Saturday, Sunday or a holiday.

The auto license number will appear in the Orpheum ads exclusively in The TRIBUNE starting with next Monday's issue. This contest will run Monday will be picked up on some street, parking station or garage in Oakland, Berkeley or Alameda by Manager Newcomb on Sunday. The number Tuesday will be selected on Monday.

Watch the Orpheum ads in The TRIBUNE exclusively.

Women Join Drive For Stadium Fund

BERKELEY, Oct. 8.—Despite the falling of the temperature, the committee that girl students would not be allowed to solicit funds in drives, two hundred college girls today were stationed on the campus to secure subscriptions for the stadium fund.

The girls, which hurried co-eds was the result of a decision made by a number of the men's committees. The collectors believed that the girls would bring advantage of the men by "holding them up" for every tag sale and benefit day on the campus.

President David P. Barrows has taken side with the women, and he declares that he will make the stadium drive a success. "If any one will put the drive over," he says, "the women will do it."

SETTLEMENT ON YAP, SHANTUNG EXPECTED SOON

Japanese Journalist Predicts Adjustment Before Arms Parley Opens.

Both the Yap Island and Shantung issues in so far as they affect the United States, China and Japan will have been adjusted by the time the disarmament conference takes place at Washington, according to the expressed belief of K. K. Kawakami, Japanese journalist who returned to San Francisco yesterday from the Orient. He is to report the conference for the Japanese language newspaper Jiji at Tokyo.

Japan, according to Kawakami, will agree to disarmament commensurate with the other nations. The Peking government, he said, will send delegates to the conference, and the South China government, which is not recognized, also is endeavoring to arrange for representation.

Kawakami said he based his prediction in reference to the Shantung settlement on the concessions tendered the Peking government by Japan, among them being:

(1) Japan does not intend to maintain Shantung province as a sphere of influence, as Germany did. Japan promises to place the privileges she secured at the peace conference, as far as the railway are concerned, in the hands of the allied bankers' consortium and return it to China.

(2) At the peace conference Japan was given the exclusive concessions on the railway, but Japan agrees not to maintain these exclusive privileges, but to make the city an international settlement, in place of the two open for foreign commerce under Chinese administration.

(3) Japan is to return to China all government buildings formerly occupied by Japan.

(4) Japan to withdraw all Japanese railroad guards as soon as China places her own guards thereon.

(5) Management of the railroads to be placed under a new corporation to be organized by Japanese and Chinese capitalists.

On September 7 Japan submitted certain proposals for a settlement of the Shantung question in memorandum form, with the Japanese minister's verbal statement that, in view of the great friendship, Japan had decided on this fair and just plan as her final concession. After careful consideration the Chinese government feels that the Japanese proposals are compatible with the Chinese government's repeated declarations.

If these proposals are to be regarded as Japan's final concessions, they surely adequately prove the sincerity of Japan's desire to settle the question.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau of Information

A TRIBUNE reader sends in the following query to the Information Bureau:

"Would you kindly tell in your column what is necessary to add to rose petals to make a rose pillow? I heard there are ways of making them very fragrant and lasting, so I am sure you appreciate knowing what is necessary to be done to produce these results."

Roses should be gathered in the early morning, and tossed lightly on a bed of cool, moist earth. The under the dew has evaporated; then put them in large glass jar, sprinkling salt over one-half inch layers of the flowers. This can be added to from morning to morning, till enough flowers without the purpose have gathered, letting stand in the jar for 10 days after the last are put in, stirring the whole every morning.

Place in an orange or lowered net. Make a very delicate pillow for the home or an invalid friend.

Spices can be added, such as one-fourth ounce of mace, one-fourth ounce of cloves and one-half ounce of ground, or pounded together in a mortar; also one-half ounce cinnamon broken in bits.

Some make the fragrance of the petals without the use of a scent. The spice may be added any time later after the rose petals smell has evaporated.

Another reader asks: "Would you kindly answer my query about how to get rid of oil or tar stains out of whipped cord uniform goods?"

Benzine, benzol, aniline or ether. Lard is also good to use first, followed by benzine.

The TRIBUNE Information Bureau will answer all questions of a general nature except school or legal problems, debates, trade and firm names and queries as to the time of day.

The bureau is open every day except Sunday, from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. If answers are

ANOTHER JUMP
IN ONION PRICES
IS DUE MONDAYCommission Men See Quotations Reach $4.25 Against Present $4 Rate.

Onions are due for another advance in Oakland, probably Monday. Commission men expected today that a jump of $1.25 would be marked. The present top is $1, but sales of good onions have been going on at $1.75. The fruit was the subject of another onion cleanup, this time in the Lodi Valley where it was reported that buyers considered the quantity of completed contracts that will take practically all of that crop. On the strength of the new prices in San Francisco which had been about 25 cents below those on most Oakland offerings, jumped 20 cents, and the situation it is hard to forget that dealers were glad to get 25 cents hundredweight for old crop onions not six months ago.

Oakland's market ended up as dull as it had been during the last three or four days. The week, all in all, was probably the only one in which the standpoint of goods moved that has been experienced since spring. There was considerable buying, but the better offerings have maintained about a steady tone. Presumably, the week in the general market today was in cantaloupes, which are selling at such prices that the buyers are hesitating to buy. It was doubtful if handouts could break even.

Bellflower apples showed some weakening in prices today although other varieties held steady. The week's crop of apples is probably the best to be had for about $1.15 or a trifle more. The supply of apples on the market is fairly good, but dealers are certain of improved buying within a short time, the apple crop season is hardly having gotten under way as yet.

Security of bananas continues locally. Prices have ruled strong at 8 cents. Two cars of Central American bananas were known to be due here next week.
